

(time) May 11. They are the Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Engineers, and Switchmen. Together they could halt operations of the nation's railroads in one cause they run the locomotives and control the switches. There are more than a million railroad workers in 18 other unions.

An appeal to the railroads and unions for a new try at settling the controversy might accomplish what persuasion to talk things over with Mr. Truman at the White House, or to return to negotiations with help from the National Mediation Board.

As a last resort, the President might order seizure of the railroads under authority of the emergency act, which has never been repealed in full. Other presidential authority to take over properties involved in labor disputes was wiped out a year ago by Congress.

Contract Is Extended

New York, May 6.—The New York Telephone Company and the National Telephone Association agreed yesterday to a five-day contract extension affecting 18,000 telephone operators in the metropolitan area. The contract expired at midnight Tuesday. Three other unions, composed of some 22,000 plant, commercial and accounting employees of the telephone company, previously agreed to contract extensions which will expire July 3. Meanwhile, representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and union officials, representing 23,000 long lines workers in 42 states, met yesterday with Federal Mediator Bernard J. Foreman without announced results.

HOME BUREAU

Exhibit at Herzog's

An exhibit by some of the work-ers on Home Bureau projects is at present on display in the windows of the Herzog hardware company, Wall street. The show-ing will continue until May 10.

The exhibit includes a few of the many projects completed this year in various classes. On display are plastic and cloth bags, women's and a pair of man's gloves, a canned chair, also one rush and a barrel chair slip cover.

The show gives an idea of the interesting things that are made in Home Bureau classes. Women interested in this work and wishing to join the Kingston Home Bureau for classes to open next fall are asked to call Mrs. M. Culley, 161 Bruyn avenue, this city; telephone 2022-J.

Killed in Accident

Tupper Lake, N. Y., May 6.—Dominick Mucciola, 30, of New York city, was fatally injured yesterday when his motorcycle hit a bump and flung him headlong onto the highway, four miles south of Long Lake. His wife, Anna, 21, riding with him, was not hurt. The Mucciolas were vacationing in the Adirondacks.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, May 6.—There will be a county-wide meeting of the public health nursing committee at the City Laboratory, Kingston, Tuesday at 2 p. m. All members of the Town of Esopus committee are requested to call Mrs. Donald Tinnie, 4067 by Monday morning.

Mrs. C. D. Jump and Mrs. F. Woodworth of Hensonsville were the guests of Mrs. Jump's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Jump, Sr., on Tuesday.

The Ladies' Candlepin Bowling League will meet tonight at the Anderson Schoolhouse Tuesday, those attending voted to send the eighth grade pupils to the Myron J. Michael School, Kingston, next year.

Frank Doyle was re-elected trustee and Miss Kathryn Hummel was re-elected collector. Mrs. Robert J. Torrens was re-elected clerk.

The Girls' League, a new organization, was recently formed at the Reformed Church. At the first meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Harry Christian, the following officers were elected: Miss Doris Ferguson, president; Miss Linda Lyons, vice-president; Miss Nancy Torrens, secretary; Miss Nancy Harris, treasurer; Miss Nancy Ellsworth, social chairman; Miss Barbara Finley, program chairman; Miss Dorothy Hornbeck, leader; Mrs. Harry E. Christian, assistant leader. After the business meeting a social hour followed. The next meeting will be held Friday, May 14, at the home of Miss Doris Ferguson.

Mrs. Ronald Latz and Mrs. Edward Sculley attended the outdoor training course at Camp Wendy.

The junior choir of the Reformed Church will meet tonight at 6:30 p. m. The senior choir will meet at 7:30 p. m.

Brownies, Troop 44, will meet Friday at 3:20 p. m. at the Methodist church house.

The Anderson 4-H Girls Homemaking Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

The junior choir of the Methodist Church will meet tonight at 6:30 p. m. The senior choir will meet at 7:30 p. m.

The consistory of the Reformed Church will meet Friday at 8 p. m. at the church hall.

It has been requested that all articles for the Priscilla Society fund sale be left at the Town of Esopus auditorium Saturday at 1 p. m. The committee in charge of the sale includes Miss Mary F. Bishop, Mrs. George Castor, Mrs. S. P. Tinnie, Mrs. W. C. Mahie, Mrs. P. W. Stine, Mrs. Edward Sculley, Mrs. Percy Fairbrother, Mrs. L. Barker and Mrs. Carlton Taylor.

Cubs of Den 1 who plan to go on the hike Friday are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Frederick Spall, Den Mother, at 3:45 p. m. All are asked to bring supper and cooking utensils. In case of rain, a regular meeting will be held.

Kenneth Boesmer spent Wednesday in Schenectady.

Mrs. Maude Stratton attended a meeting in Kingston Tuesday night.

Miss Mary F. Bishop, Port Ewen correspondent for The Freeman, has a new telephone number, 5245-M.

The name of Mrs. Maude Stratton was inadvertently omitted from the list of the members who attended the Priscilla Society meeting Monday night.

The Girl Scout of Troop 51 will hold a covered dish supper at the Town of Esopus auditorium Friday from 6 to 8 p. m. Their mothers will be guests.

Elections at the annual School District 13 meeting this week included Vincent Meleski, re-elected trustee for a term of three years; Jay R. Kelly, elected clerk; Clifford Finley, re-elected treasurer; and Mrs. Edith Schryver, re-elected collector. The budget calling for an expenditure of $26,075 for the school year of 1948-49, was unanimously adopted as read by Trustee Smith. A resolution was passed extending a unanimous vote of appreciation for the 16 years of untiring and efficient service performed by Lewis C. Conn, district clerk. Mrs. Jay R. Kelly was elected chairman of the meeting. Kingston High School was designated for the education of the academic school pupils. Transportation was voted for academic and parochial school children and the Central branch of the Kingston Trust Co., was designated as the depository for school funds. The present teaching staff was re-engaged for the next school year.

Presentation Church — Friday, 7:30 p. m. Sacred Heart devotions will be held at the church. St. Martin's Club will meet tonight in the parish hall at 8 o'clock. The Blanket Club will meet Friday after the service.

German Unions Try to Get Men Back to Their Jobs

Frankfurt, Germany, May 6 (AP)—German trade union leaders tried today to get 70,000 workmen striking in protest against food shortages to return to their jobs. They also sought to keep the food strikes from spreading throughout lower Saxony in the British occupation zone. Such a walkout would affect some 600,000 workmen.

The workmen are striking for more meat and fat in their rations. They began walking off the job in protest against a Bavarian government order cutting out extra meat and fat rations, in the diet of heavy workers.

The strikes threatened to cripple the British zone. Trade union leaders said they were meeting stiff opposition in trying to persuade the workers to go back to their jobs. The workers protested an order of union headquarters suspending voting in factories on the strike question.

The strike situation was not expected to be clear in the British and American zones until tomorrow since most of German observed Ascension Day today as a holiday.

Scattered strikes in the two zones have taken about 100,000 workmen away from their jobs since Monday, but some returned yesterday.

In Berlin the British licensed newspaper Der Tag reported today in a dispatch from Leipzig that the Russians were breaking food strikes in their occupation zone by threatening to deport strikers to Siberia. Russian-controlled newspapers in Berlin gave prominent display to the food strikes in western Germany. United States authorities have stated that there is evidence of Communist agitation behind the strikes.

CLEAN-UP TIME

The spring and early summer community clean-up is one of the oldest and most valuable of American institutions. It makes for attractive homes and towns. According to medical men, it helps fight disease, by getting rid of germ-filled refuse. And it is absolutely essential to fire prevention.

Many fire departments have on hand self-inspection guides prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The advice given is simple—and it is also vital to domestic and industrial safety. All rubbish in and out of buildings should be gathered up and disposed of. Heating equipment of all kinds should be inspected by experts in order to ready it for hard use next winter, and needed repairs should be made at once. Electric cords, lamps and appliances should also be checked for possible dangers. Flammables, such as paint and cleaning liquids, should be carefully stored, and rags which are used with them should be kept only in closed metal containers.

Careful clean-ups were never more needed than now. Last March alone, fire destroyed over $74,000,000 worth of property—a jump of about 2.5 per cent over the same month a year ago. Unless it is checked, a new high record of waste will again be established this year. These dollars are represented by lost houses, buildings, food, raw materials, manufactured goods, and everything else that can burn. And along with property, fire takes more than 10,000 lives annually. The spring clean-up can be one of fire's most effective enemies.

Guatemala has passed a law limiting rents to seven per cent of the property's taxable value. It does not mean that the Reds have taken over Guatemala. The Guatemalans simply feel that landlords have been taking undue advantage.

GROWING OIL

Dr. Melvin Calvin, professor of chemistry at the University of California, is less worried than some about the prospect of exhaustion of the natural stores of oil and coal. He thinks they can be grown.

He says forms of fresh water and salt water algae, including such plants as seaweed, sea moss and pond scum, can be made to yield fat which can be converted into the hydrocarbons which are the source of energy derived from coal and oil. He also says it is commercially feasible.

The idea is not altogether fanciful. Rather similar forms of plant life were the original source material of coal and petroleum. Dr. Calvin is suggesting only that some man-made chemical shortcuts can be substituted for the natural processes of time in converting the plants into rich black fuel.

Perhaps the future may find work for a new type of farmer, who tends shallow vats of water in burning sunshine, growing coal for the furnaces and gasoline for the automobiles and aircraft of tomorrow.

A Chicago dentist has offered anyone a lifetime's free dental work in exchange for an apartment. Well, everybody says you've got to use pull to get a place to live nowadays.

PRODUCTION GENIUS

"This country has been very good to me," in these simple words the late William S. Knudsen, born in Denmark, explained his willingness to serve during the war. His production genius had so much to do with our immense output of war materials that Hitler had every reason to curse his name.

A mystery unexplained in the recent life of Knudsen by Normal Bessley is why he left Ford to go with General Motors. "They didn't get along together," is all the explanation generally offered; but if so, they took a good many years to find it out. A lot of Americans would like to know more about this, the most important disagreement in the history of automobile manufacture.

THE MUNDT BILL

Usually, when a Congressional Committee or anybody else wants to determine whether a person is a Communist, he asks: "Do you believe in or plan to overthrow the Government of the United States?", or words to that effect.

That is a foolish question. No Communist wishes or plans to overthrow the Government of the United States. He desires to extend the power and authority of the Government of the United States or any other government. He desires to expand its personnel; to develop its functions until the burden of taxes is so great that it produces revolution and confusion and then the Communists take over. Once they do take over, they establish first a coalition of Left-Wing parties; then a dictatorship of the Communist Party; and finally the dictatorship of a Politburo—a small oligarchy which produces a proletarian dictatorship.

The correctness of the Mundt Bill is that it meets just that situation. It defines the character of the Soviet Russian, the Polish, the Rumanian, the Yugoslavian and other Communist governments as a "Totalitarian Dictatorship." That is precisely what it is. It is not a democracy; it is not a social democracy; it is not a representative republic. It is a totalitarian dictatorship, an oligarchy of a self-appointed elite which enslaves a people without mercy.

The Mundt Bill places restrictions upon Americans which are ugly and should be unnecessary. But they are not unnecessary, as much as we may find them offensive. The fact is that since 1917 the world has faced this horrible conspiracy, since 1933 this country has lived in a nightmare of corruption of every tradition of our people, of our literature, of our schools, of the components of our people, of our society. The Communists have invaded our government; they spoke for us, but against our interests, through the OWI; they managed to infiltrate the Army and Navy during the war and wrote a literature of falsehood which was distributed to our sons. They have poisoned our industrial relations with the object of reducing the productivity of our nation and so increasing the cost of government until the burden of debt and taxation became unbearable.

Obviously existing law is inadequate to meet the danger of this Fifth Column. The fact is that many Communists still remain in public office and a Federal Grand Jury has been sitting in New York nearly a year without result; men and women who entered in 1934 into a conspiracy to invade our government with the object of spying upon it and reaching high places to do it, are as free as the wind to continue their work of havoc.

The Mundt Bill says: "One result of this method of operation is that such political organizations are able to obtain financial and other support from persons who would not extend such support if they knew the true purposes of it, and the actual nature of the control and influence exerted upon such 'Communist fronts'."

Even more amazing is the fact that while Communism is legally respectable only in well-informed persons continue to believe that this Fifth Column should be granted all the rights and privileges of a traditional American political party. They are incapable of understanding that all Communists are agents, by consent of a foreign government, who serve that government faithfully as a matter of creed. The "Communist Front" often consists of innocent persons who, favoring some cause, become affiliated with the Communists and thereupon are involved, sometimes unwillingly and often unknowingly, in the conspiracies of this vast international movement for the enslavement of the human race to a Totalitarian Dictatorship. The period of probe and investigation is over; the time has come for strict action against these institutions.

The Mundt Bill is being and will continue to be attacked. Check the record of those who attack it. You will find that many of them have fought every effort. In this country, to safeguard the United States against the Soviet World Revolution. If those who attack the Mundt Bill have such a record, it is not necessary to say a word about them. They have demonstrated their enmity to America. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

HIGH-BLOOD PRESSURE

A physician examining a patient in his fifties found his blood pressure low for his age and remarked that the insurance companies would be pleased to insure him. Despite his low-blood pressure, he was in good health and active in his profession—that of engineering.

The patient remarked, "Low-blood pressure runs in our family; both my brothers are well and both have low-blood pressure."

While low-blood pressure in a healthy individual usually means long life, high-blood pressure—even in a healthy individual—usually, but not always, means a shortened life span. And, just as low-blood pressure runs in some families, so does high-blood pressure run in others. The latter is often a forerunner of heart strokes (coronary thrombosis) or brain strokes (apoplexy).

In the "New England Medical Journal," Dr. D. A. Aynian reported a study of blood pressure, height and weight of 1,524 members of 277 families. High-blood pressures were found in 143 of 780 members of the second generation ranging in age from 14 to 39 years. These 148 cases were of the same age and sex as the entire 780, but they were 1/3 pounds above the average weight for the remainder of the group.

In families whose parents had normal blood pressure, only 3 per cent had high-blood pressure. In families in which one parent had high-blood pressure, 28 per cent had high-blood pressure; and in families where both parents had high-blood pressure, there were 45 per cent with high blood pressure.

Of 70 brothers and sisters of parents whose blood pressure was normal, 37 per cent had high-blood pressure; whereas of 86 brothers and sisters with parents with high-blood pressure, 65 per cent (twice as many) had high-blood pressure.

This unusually high percentage of high-blood pressure in the children, brothers, sisters, and parents of men and women with high-blood pressure as compared with similar relatives of those with normal blood pressure, shows the hereditary tendency of high-blood pressure. We can't choose our relatives, but we can watch our weight.

from which these foods derive their heat are ground from seeds rich in B vitamins, apt to be lacking in ordinary tropical eatables. Also they stimulate the flow of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. All this is from Dr. Clarence A. Mills, in his book, "Climate Makes the Man".

This throws light on the wonder that had occurred to some people: why, if the inhabitants of hot countries like hot foods, do not the Eskimos go in strongly for ice cream? Or would they, if they could?

"Got Any Votes on Yuh, Son?"

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In 1928 there came to the corn-breeding farm of Henry Wallace at Ames, Ia., Soviet Russian scientist named Borodine to learn what he could about the improvement of the breed of corn. He and Henry had a long talk. Henry had waived his chance to broaden his horizon in 1917 and 1918 by claiming deferment in the draft. He was fascinated by the stranger's talk of places far beyond the Iowa line. When Borodine was leaving, the country boy drove him to the railroad station and Borodine told him about the great professor, Nicholas Roerich, an artist of renown and the outstanding cultural influence of the age. There will be some who will suspect that Mr. Borodine was sent all the way from Moscow to need a simple haysacker with gooty tendencies, but actually it seems that nature and fate did the monkey business. Not even Stalin could have known then that the Henry Wallace whom the neighbors sometimes regarded with amusement would one day become secretary of agriculture and, on a later day, the candidate of the Communists for President of the U. S. A.

In those days, Henry came to New York no oftener than once in 18 months or so. The next time he did go down to the city, late in 1928, he called at Roerich's publicity plant.

With a suppressed cry of "hello sucker!" They went to work on that tick and sent him away loaded with pamphlets telling what a genius Roerich was. Henry was very well up on corn and you couldn't fool him on fertilizer. But when the press agent sounded off about the deeper meanings of Roerich's paintings he could just about manage the opinion that they certainly were real purdy pictures, at that.

They didn't let him meet Roerich then. They didn't even let him see the master. Still, Henry was, as he put it a few years ago, completely taken in and for a long time thereafter he read and believed every issue of Roerich's magazine.

As he looked back over his foolishness, Henry realized that Roerich had played him for a chump and hadn't admitted him to his presence more than a few times in all their association. He recalled that Roerich's "exclusiveness" made him seem desirable to know. Much too late to recall his writings and actions, he suspected that this was all showmanship by the great, mystical guru. He speculated the opinion that one way to make a man seem great was to keep him out of sight and get people to say wonderful things about him.

The next time Henry got to New York was in 1929. He was then on his way to a conference of European agricultural economists and the sap recalled that he was thrilled beyond measure when he was told that it might be possible to arrange an interview of a few minutes with the old professor.

(One of the gooty guru letters which Wallace had refused to discuss said: "I hope to call at the (Roerich) museum on Aug. 14, 15 or 16. At any rate, I am sailing from New York on Aug. 17 for England with some Cornell professors to attend an economics conference in England, after which I go to Hungary to study maize growing in the European corn belt, etc.") This was signed "H. A. Wallace."

Wallace considered himself to have been honored when the press agent arranged a ten-minute visit with Roerich. He couldn't even remember what the guru said but he was much impressed, mainly by the oriental cast of Roerich's features and by his whiskers. Later he learned that Roerich had a habit of running his fingers through the whiskers to part them into two main sprigs or sheaves. The old guru's head was nude and like a schoolboy who has been reading a story about the sacred ruby stolen from the forehead of the idol in the lamazery, Henry came away staring at shadows.

Henry thought it was during this first meeting that the press agent, sprang a plan to arrange a compact among all nations to be called, modestly, the Roerich pact, to protect all cultural treasures in time of war. Roerich was willing to let himself be identified in publicity in all the rich centers where art clients might want to buy his paintings as the founder and sponsor of this great cultural business. He had also designed a symbol of three dots or balls within a circle, to fly on a banner over all registered cultural objects.

At this point I refer to one of the gooty guru letters which said, "both in words and in painting, Roerich is an adept in the use of symbols which have a power unknown to science."

Further on this point, I discovered that in 1936, Raoul E. Desvergne, a New York lawyer and student of the New Deal's secret motives, wrote a book called "Democratic Despotism" in which he discussed Wallace's own interest in symbolism.

This book was published four years before the first public intimation of Wallace's infatuation with Roerich. It contained a page of symbols. There were the symbols of fascism, national socialism, and Communism and the Roerich symbol.

Bear in mind the faith in the great power of symbols expressed in the gooty guru letter. Then note that Desvergne, that long ago, wrote: "The similarity of the nomenclature of the mystic prophet of the New Deal (Wallace) betrays a startling likeness to the mental processes of the prophets of the new despots in Europe. There is, for instance, the Third Reich of Herr Hitler, the Third Internationale of Stalin; and tripartite nature of Mussolini's corporatism; and the third economy of Dr. Tugwell. The number three seems to have a strange fascination, a magical charm and import. They all seem to be impressed by the use of symbols. Wallace has adopted a mystical symbol, three spheres within a circle. Like Hitler's swastika it is of oriental origin."

Wallace read and re-read Roerich's mystical book "Atlatl Himalaya" and when he became Secretary of Agriculture, the cult bore down on him to put over the greatest publicity hoax in the history of the White House. Wallace became "protector" of the great compact and banner of peace, the banner bearing the three balls symbolic of the heckschock for five centuries. So in solemn absurdity on November 17 and 18, 1933, Wallace led a "special delegation" of Pan-American dignitaries, and dupes in the presentation to Franklin D. Roosevelt of the pact and the banner. Two years later, he came out of his daze. Henry was so overcome by chagrin and so fearful of denunciation by his old guru that he banished Roerich to India. The happy coincidence of the New Deal's Income Tax Department made it so perilous for him to return that he never came back. It was reported a few months ago that he had died in India.

To Observe Anniversary
 Syracuse, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—The 10th anniversary of the establishment of the federal-state milk marketing order for the metropolitan New York market will be observed with a banquet here May 25. At least 600 dairymen and federal and state agricultural officials will be invited. The banquet will be sponsored by major producer groups.

Search Is Made
 Shannon Airport, Eire, May 6 (AP)—Planes began a search of the North Atlantic today for a missing C-47 transport plane more than 24 hours overdue. The privately-owned craft was on a flight from Grand, Newfoundland, to Shannon. It is owned by the Superior Oil Company. The British Ministry of Civil Aviation said it carried three crew members, but Shannon Airport officials said it carried only two and no passengers.

Lincoln Gave Advice in One of His Campaigns Which Stassen Might Have Observed in His Bid

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 6—Abraham Lincoln was certainly considered a good political strategist in his day and, in his effort to win the first Republican nomination for the presidency, he gave his lieutenants a piece of political advice which Harold Stassen might better have followed in 1948.

Lincoln advised that it wasn't good tactics to try to get a state's delegation away from a "favorite son" but instead to line up "second choices."

Had Stassen done this in Ohio, he might have placed himself in a favorable position for the Republican nomination. Instead, he has succeeded in antagonizing many of the most influential members of the Republican party. His blunder in Ohio may well cost him the presidential nomination and it could conceivably make it difficult for him to win even second place.

Stassen has been looked upon as the youthful leader who somehow stands apart from the so-called "Old Guard" group of the aging politicians. Young men have looked to him for leadership in an age in which the people generally abhor the practices of party politicians. But the former Minnesota governor did something in Ohio which has hurt him irreparably with large sections of the Republican party who will have much to say about the nomination.

It was not the invasion of a "favorite son" state in itself that hurt Stassen. This, it may be argued, is no political error of magnitude in an era in which preference primaries are being held, though many political observers will think it a mistake in tactics anyway. What Stassen did that is almost unforgivable in politics was to enter certain districts in Ohio where the labor vote is predominant and try to knife Senator Taft because of the latter's championship of the labor-management relations law.

After all, this law was passed by two-thirds of both Houses of Congress. The Republican party almost to a man supported it. Yet Stassen went into Ohio to capitalize on labor's resentment toward a Republican leader. Here is how a United Press dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, described it:

"The Stassen candidates were filed largely in industrial areas of the state where possible resentment would be highest against Taft for his sponsorship of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

Stassen made it clear he would have voted for the law but he criticized Senator Taft's relationship to the law and indicated clearly that he would amend certain provisions. The plain purpose of such speeches in Ohio was to indicate that Stassen would be likely to help labor weaken the law whereas Senator Taft, if elected president, might not do so.

What Stassen did might have been all right in a national campaign in which he was fighting against a Democratic opponent, but going into the state of Ohio to try to wrest the nomination from a rival Republican on these grounds has certainly caused him plenty of embarrassment with the large group of conservatives in the party who will have the final say when the convention meets.

Stassen made a good record on labor relations when he was governor of Minnesota but he was to win the nomination he would nevertheless not get the labor vote, for it will go to President Truman who vetoed and denounced the entire Taft-Hartley Act. So it is not at all clear what purpose really was served by Stassen's maneuver other than to create antagonisms and friction inside the party by criticizing Senator Taft on the labor issue. Undoubtedly many Democratic voters entered the Ohio primaries to help put Taft in a hole. Even Stassen's capture of a few delegates in handpicked labor districts, however, doesn't erase the fact that on a state-wide basis Senator Taft's delegates ran highest and Stassen's candidate for delegate-at-large ran last and didn't win a place in the delegation.

Senator Taft has not won the nomination by his victory in Ohio but what Stassen did there may have immeasurably hurt the Minnesota almost to the point of forfeiting his chance to win. For Republican convention, don't usually nominate people who openly knife party policy or party leaders—especially when that policy seeks to restrain the arbitrary acts of labor leaders that recently cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars in the coal strike and may cost even more millions if the rail unions attempt to fight within that policy of restraint. Lifelines

C. R. DOUGLAS

Oil has long been the gold of our times as most of us have observed through trends in international affairs. We have been hearing recently that our home supply holds no great promise for the future, but we have been informed also only a few days ago that the U. S. Navy is striking "gushers" in the Arctic Circle.

Whether this is to mean a new era of rich esquimaux or a sustained flow of new "gold" into our own economy remains to be seen, but it does look promising for our jittery industrial wheels, and if the find is important enough it might lessen the tension in the current international mess over this life-blood of industry.

An Associated Press dispatch from Olympia, Washington, reported that the area in which the U. S. Navy is currently interested "covers 32,000 square miles within the Arctic Circle, stretching out from Point Barrow, Alaska."

This might well be the one discovery needed to make our northernmost territory of more direct and important commercial value, and it may open the way to more valuable research in the vast unexplored and unexploited regions of the ice-bound north country.

Science became more mindful of the far north during the war years and this new find may mean a new "gold rush" by hardy pioneers before the end of another decade. It will have much more effect on the world in general than the "rush" of the Klondike era, if it helps in any way to lessen the fuss among nations over other important oil supply sources.

We have often wondered what might be under the vast ice-capped and snow-bound tracts of Greenland and learned recently that its deposits of cryolite "are the largest in the world."

Cryolite is described as "a fluoride of sodium and aluminum, a colorless to brownish mineral used in the manufacture of metallic aluminum and glass." It is found almost exclusively in Greenland.

It is an essential ingredient of the 827,000 square miles of Greenland and also have oil deposits and it might be worth while for Russia to probe the frozen rescue of Siberia instead of casting envious eyes on the fields of the middle Orient.

Military expeditions during the war proved that men can live and work in the desolate, frozen northlands, and the history of Alaska and northern Canada is proof enough that men will weather the rigors of the Arctic for gold or its equivalent in value.

Sinking oil wells in places like Greenland where the average thickness of the ice cap is 1,000 feet will take some doing, but science today often accomplishes herculean tasks, and that too we discovered many times during the war years.

We may yet hear the words of Horace Greeley paraphrased in a modern version: "Go North Young Man," and after last winter in this region, many of us could stand it.

Church Expenditures
 In the prewar decade, churches spent between $25 million and $60 million per year for new buildings, compared with expenditures of over $150 a year toward the close of the 1920s.

Questions—Answers

Q—Why is holly used during the Christmas season?

A—Because of its thorns, holly was thought to resemble Jesus' crown of thorns.

Q—Where was Jefferson Davis captured?

A—He was captured May 10, 1865, at Irwinville, Ga., and was confined at Fortress Monroe for two years awaiting trial for treason. He was released on bail and the proceedings against him were later dropped.

Q—Where is the Navajo Trail?

A—This trail cannot definitely be located as it is more or less traditional. Part of the Navajo Trail is in New Mexico.

Q—What is the Monitorial System?

A—This is a term given a system of instruction which uses advanced students, called monitors, to teach younger students. The idea was never developed to any extent in America but was popular in England in the 19th Century.

Q—Who was known as Sir Veto?

A—President Andrew Jackson, because of his unusual number of congressional bill vetoes.

Doesn't Remove Power

New York, May 6 (AP)—The Taft-Hartley law does not take away jurisdiction of the State Labor Relations Board over certain state businesses, the S.L.R.B. ruled yesterday. It was the first "on the record" defense by the S.L.R.B. of its scope since provisions of the Taft-Hartley law caused many New York state firms to claim National Labor Relations Board action. The state board's ruling specifically contended that it held jurisdiction over a dispute between the Roxy Cleaners and Dyers of Albany, N. Y., and District 50 of the United Mine Workers of America.

Big Four Ceases Talk on Treaty

London, May 6 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers' deputies, after an east-west deadlock, today suspended indefinitely their talks looking toward a peace treaty for Austria.

British Deputy James Majorbanks said he will ask his government whether it is any use to resume the discussions.

S. Deputy Samuel Reber, who said he will call no new session until Russia agrees that Austrian frontiers should not be altered in favor of Yugoslavia, Reber said Russia also would have to agree that Austria should pay no war reparations to Yugoslavia. Russia could submit new written proposals based on these principles, he said.

Russia has supported Yugoslavia's claim to about 800 square miles of southern Austria and to $150,000,000 in reparations. Britain, the United States and France have opposed it.

In meetings daily since late February, the deputies have reached an accord upon only one major point—limitation of Austrian armed forces to 53,000.

It was said today that the tree remains in full bloom for about a week but that due to yesterday's rain, some of the blossoms already had dropped off. (Freeman Photo)

Food Prices Are Topic at Rotary

Grand Union Official Is Speaker; Bard Theatre Explained

The retailer gets the blame for high prices, but the facts show a different story, declared H. J. Davern, vice president of the Grand Union in a brief talk before the Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

In outlining the cost of merchandise, the speaker pointed out the increased costs in salaries, rentals, taxes, wrapping, light and power, trucking, warehouses and other items.

In defense of high costs of wholesale food, Mr. Davern mentioned the condition of the world, farmers receiving 135 to 150 per cent pre-war, freight rates up 15 to 25 per cent; farm labor and trucking up 150 to 175 per cent and taxes increased.

The situation was not hopeless, he said and forecast not much change in the price of food in the months ahead. Some of the things which will affect prices and supplies include industry's third round of wage demands; restrictive legislation, European relief program; army requirements and weather.

In an effort to keep prices down the retailers are affecting economies through administration, supervision, training courses, lower warehouse costs, layout and equipment.

Speaks on Bard Theatre

During the luncheon there was an enlightening five-minute talk on The Bard College Summer School of the Theatre by Miss Alida S. Freeborn, assistant managing director.

Miss Freeborn explained that the purpose of theatre school was to provide opportunities for intensive work in the theatre arts. A Playhouse will be sponsored which will be a summer stock theatre with a company including members of Actors Equity Association. Students who wish training as actors, directors, designers or technicians will study under the direction of the professional personnel of The Playhouse, and in addition will participate in its productions.

The school will run eight weeks, opening on June 19 and closing August 14. The school will be open to high school graduates, students attending Bard and other colleges and universities and adults. Previous dramatic experience is desirable but not necessary.

Application forms may be obtained from the Director of Admissions, Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

About the Folks

The wedding of Charles H. McGillicuddy and Patricia H. McGillicuddy, daughter of James McGillicuddy, was held at the Kingston Hotel today.

The wedding of Sandra McGillicuddy and Jerry McGillicuddy, son of James McGillicuddy, was held at the Kingston Hotel today.

Miss McGillicuddy was reported to be suffering from a cold and a sore throat when she caught fire Sunday.

May Tie Up Whole System
Philadelphia, May 6 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad, the nation's biggest carrier of passengers and freight, said today a strike of engineers and firemen Tuesday may idle all its 140,000 employees. P.R.R. President M. W. Clement, in a letter to employees in all departments, said the strike could be "unreasonable and arbitrary." "If the engineers and firemen carry out this reckless intention to strike," Clement wrote, "it will become physically impossible to operate the railroad and, although reluctant to do so, your management may have no alternative but to shut down all departments."

Conner Uses Electrol Appliance

Hearse and ambulance fleet of W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., Kingston, which was recently equipped with RolControl, an automotive safety device, which prevents vehicles from rolling on severe up-or-down grades and creeping in traffic. W. N. Conner, president of the firm bearing his name, advised Electrol Incorporated, Kingston, manufacturers of RolControl, that among the many safety advantages gained through the use of the device on his hearses and ambulances is that they can receive or discharge patients on inclines without danger of rolling or creeping. RolControl, currently being distributed nationally, is meeting with wide acceptance from both passenger car and light truck owners. Harco Motors, Inc., also of Kingston, made the Conner fleet RolControl installation. (Roosa Photo)

THE MEANING OF 'NICE'

To my expressed disapproval of the prevalent practice of young girls kissing their boy-friends good-night, I received this answer: "If nice girls are not permitted to kiss their boy-friends, won't they drive the boys into the arms of girls possibly not-so-nice?"

It seems to me that those who freely kiss their boy-friends will themselves form the ranks of the "not-so-nice." In other words, what, except lack of defensive reserves, could "not-so-nice" mean?

50th Wedding Anniversary Guests
 Dear Mrs. Post: Is a 50th wedding anniversary more suitably limited to relatives and older friends of the couple, or may it just as well be a large mixed-ages party?

Answer: It would depend upon the question of whether or not the couple themselves had friends and relatives of all ages. If they are heads of a large family, their list would undoubtedly include ages from their own down to their youngest grandchildren. Otherwise, they merely would invite their personal friends of whatever ages these might be.

Wedding Attendants May Be Married

Dear Mrs. Post: It seems that all of my very best friends have raced me to the altar and won. I am now confronted with choosing my attendants from among married women or else having to ask less personal friends. Is it proper to have the attendant of honor as well as all the bridesmaids, "matrons?"

Answer: Absolutely yes. It is not even unusual.

Invitation Not Including Family

Dear Mrs. Post: A wedding invitation has just arrived addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. X." The only other member of our family is a 20-year-old son, whom we would like very much to take with us.

Answer: If the invitations to the church are without cards, you may quite properly take him with you. But otherwise he would not be admitted to the church. You should not take him to the reception without first asking if you may take him with you.

Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 501, "Weddings," describes wedding invitations and announcements, as well as the bride's clothes and explaining who pays the expenses. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N. Y. Stassen's Votes Are Victory or Defeat; Depends on View

Both He and Taft Claim They Were Winners in Primary Ballots

Columbus, O., May 7 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen's capture of nine Ohio Republican Presidential delegates today was called victory or defeat—depending on which way you looked.

Sen. Robert A. Taft won the other 14 contested delegates, plus 30 without opposition from the former Minnesota governor, nearly complete returns showed.

Both Taft and Stassen hailed the outcome of Tuesday's primary election as a personal victory. Their delegates are pledged to support them for the G.O.P. Presidential nomination at the National Convention next month.

Taft from Washington said his 44 Ohio delegates assured him of more first ballot convention votes than any other candidate.

Stassen said his was a "clear cut victory—one of the most significant developments of the entire national campaign."

"The Republicans of Ohio have advanced us another step toward nomination at Philadelphia," Stassen asserted at Minneapolis.

Stassen had predicted he would get a dozen Ohio delegates, including one from the state at-large.

He selected industrialized areas principally for his battle grounds, apparently expecting to capitalize on sentiment against the Taft-Hartley Law.

The pay-off was a Stassen sweep of delegates in the Toledo, Akron, Youngstown and Dayton areas. He split with Taft in one Cleveland district but lost the others there, and in the Canton, Steubenville, Springfield and Portsmouth sectors.

Carrington T. Marshall, Columbus attorney and former Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, was Stassen's only delegate-at-large candidate. With nine to be elected on a state-wide basis, Marshall ran a distant tenth.

Taft people noted that Stassen had said he would not regard his Ohio race as a victory unless Marshall's vote total equaled the average received by Taft delegates-at-large. Taft, himself, in pre-primary forecasts refused to concede Stassen a single delegate but his campaign manager, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, said "par for the course is four to nine."

Sen. John W. Bricker led the at-large field with 410,513 votes reported. Ed E. Schroy of Cincinnati, former state G.O.P. chairman, was lowest of the nine winners with 330,524. Marshall ran out with 318,871.

There was no contest for delegates on the Democratic side. All 50 Democratic Convention delegates are pledged nominally to W. A. Julian of Cincinnati, treasurer of the United States, but are committed to vote for President Truman.

One of the hottest state races was for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche ousted Ray T. Miller, former Cuyahoga county Democratic chairman and ex-Cleveland mayor, nearly 3 to 1. In the November 2 election Lausche will oppose Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, who nipped him out by about 40,000 votes two years ago.

Folsom, Smackin' Sam From Alabam, Marries Girl, 21

Montgomery, Ala., May 6 (AP)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama, whose antics with the women earned him the title of "kissing Jim," has married the 21-year-old girl who once left him speechless.

The surprise wedding of the six-foot, eight-inch widower to Miss Janelle Moore, who stands five-foot-five, took place late yesterday at Rockford, Ala.

For the 39-year-old governor and father of two small daughters, his marriage to the brunette, state-employed secretary was the climax to a busy 24-months, political and otherwise.

In Washington, government secretaries leaned out of windows and some even whistled. In New York, a models' group named him the most eligible bachelor of the year, and he stopped traffic on Fifth avenue by kissing most of the girls within reach.

Still later in Texas he was photographed on a kissing spree and even before this there were stories of his cross-country romance with Virginia Warren, daughter of California Gov. Earl Warren.

After yesterday's ceremony at a little Baptist church, the governor and his bride returned to Montgomery for a brief talk with newspapermen. Afterwards the governor and Mrs. Folsom disappeared, the governor saying he planned to be back in the office today.

The governor told the newspapermen of his first meeting with the girl who now is the first lady of Alabama.

"I was making a speech," he said, "when I was running for governor. I saw her in the crowd and I stopped speaking. I missed about a minute of my speech before I could catch up."

gested it might be wise to begin contracting for some of the new aircraft this fiscal year, which ends July 1, by moving ahead part of next year's funds and authorizations.

House leaders grabbed this suggestion and ran away with it, instead of the 33-group air force proposed by Forrestal, the House said there should be 70 groups including many new jet-driven fighters and long range bombers. It tucked on the $822,000,000 extra to start work on those planes.

Some lawmakers said frankly they hoped quick action to build up the nation's air power might avoid an election-year vote on the tough issues of drafting young men or putting them in U.M.E. camps.

Forrestal, insisted there should be a "tailored" defense program rather than one pegged to "national" factors, offered a compromise 66-group plan with the 11 additional groups to be equipped largely with World War II bombers and fighters now in storage.

Congressional critics called this a "mothball" air force and pushed ahead with the more expensive plans for new jet fighters and bombers.

Neither a U.M.T. nor draft bill has reached the Senate or House floor although a House committee approved a U.M.T. plan last summer.

The Senate Armed Services Committee met again behind closed doors today (9 a. m. E.S.T.) to try to perfect its plan for combining the draft and a U.M.T.-substitute. This involves one year of training in regular services for 18 year olds with a two-year draft for those 19 through 25.

The House Armed Services Committee has approved a separate draft measure, but like its U.M.T. bill of last year it is in the hands of the House Rules Committee.

Meanwhile House leaders predicted quick passage there today of a bill authorizing $297,930,350 worth of army construction in this country and abroad.

The long list of posts, camps and stations in this country and bases outside assured favorable election year reception from the lawmakers.

posed. Gottfried was given a three-year sentence in prison and a $20,000 fine.

Following the conviction an appeal was taken and the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the lower court.

The trial of the three men was held in Federal Court in New York city and extended over a period of some eight weeks during which the charges of false statements to obtain sugar rations, and conspiracy to prevent an O.P.A. investigation were aired.

The appearances in the case were Assistant U.S. Attorney Frederick H. Block, for the prosecution; Gregory F. Noonan for Gottfried; Charles Nager for the Pure Rock Corporation; Joseph L. Delaney for Joseph H. Forman and Francis Martucci of this city for William T. Stanton. On the appeal Henry Epstein appeared on behalf of Mr. Forman.

Confirmation of the surrender of Joseph H. Forman and William T. Stanton to a U.S. marshal in New York on Tuesday was made by Martucci who said both men had surrendered themselves and later were assigned to the Federal Correctional Institution which is located west of the city of Danbury, Conn.

Food consumption per person in the United States was virtually unchanged from 1909 to 1938.

51 Boys Complete 'Y' Swim Course

A class of 51 boys learned to swim during this year's annual free swimming campaign conducted by Clarence Correll and Lou Schaffer, physical director, at the Y.M.C.A.

Sixty-nine boys signed up for the beginner's class representing classes up through the fifth grade in the city's public schools. Ten of the registrants dropped out of the course and eight failed to make the grade, the report said. The same eight, however, are now ready to start regular instruction.

Boys swimming the required 30 feet and the school they represented followed:

No. 1—James Diers. No. 2—Arthur Ortlieb. Bruce Peters, Ronald Kidd. No. 3—Walter Trowbridge, Theodore Van Dyke. No. 4—Michael Alecci, James Nerone, James Polacco, Jacob Senor and Anthony Amato. No. 5—Henry Cragen, John Brady, Robert Teller, Peter Sammons, Albert Resso and Richard Smith.

No. 6—Larry Fisher, Ronald Naloff, Robert Schiskey, Walter Holsapple, Frank Turch, Robert Stokes, Gerald Wolf. No. 7—Harry Harries, Donald Peck, Fred DeHoff and Henry Jacobs. No. 8—Palmer Brodhead, Myron Epstein, James Van Buren, Richard Richards and Gerald Parks.

Boys who completed the 30-foot distance were: No. 4—Robert Post, Frank D'Amis, Webster Henderson. No. 5—John Brady, Lee Barnett and William Whispell. No. 8—Arthur Carr and Thomas Logerman.

Boys swimming the 20-foot distance, across the width of the pool, included No. 5—Philip Sinagra, James Playford. No. 6—Paul Rodriguez, Duane Dietz, Richard Mandell, Ronald Bogart, Rudy Florenberger and Thomas Chase. No. 7—John Robert and Peter Cummings.

Smiley Will Discuss Ulster County Animals

The annual spring luncheon of Ulster County Historical Society will be held at Revier House, Marbletown, Saturday, May 22, 12:30 p. m. Daniel Smiley Jr., of Mohawk Lake will speak on "Ulster County Animals Past and Present." A brief business session will be held.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring their own basket lunch. Checks for dues and acceptance with the number in the picnic party are to be sent to Louis G. Bruhn, secretary-treasurer, 284 Wall street, before May 20.

Ives Plans Measure

tions. They said the vast number of elections has become a financial and administrative burden to government. Ives added that their handling prevents efficient administration of far more important provisions of the law.

The Taft-Hartley Act abolished the closed shop, which required employers to hire only union members.

The law does permit a union to ask an employer for a union shop, provided a majority of the employer's workers vote at an N.L.R.B. election that they want such an arrangement.

Under the union shop, the employer can hire anyone he pleases but the workers must join the union.

The plan being considered is to abolish the required N.L.R.B. election among workers as a condition to their asking for the union shop in labor contracts.

The N.L.R.B. released figures yesterday showing approximately 13,000 requests for union shop elections have been filed, with 7,145 still pending. In the 5,968 elections held, 98 percent of them resulted in favor of the union shop. More than 600,000 workers have been polled in the elections held in eight months.

Robinson Back in U. S.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—Reid Robinson, a C.I.O. union official, is back in the United States following his deportation by Canada on a charge of being a Communist. Robinson says he is not a Communist. The eastern president of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers was released at the border here yesterday by a Canadian immigration official. He left a few hours later for his home in Chicago. Robinson went to Canada last fall to organize gold field an Ontario Supreme Court. Outworkers of northern Ontario. He was officials ordered him deported under a rule which penalized against a deportation order; this deportation of aliens found was rejected two weeks ago by the Communists.

Striking Teachers Win Pay Increases, Return to Schools

Providence, R. I., May 6 (AP)—Striking Providence public school teachers returned to their classrooms today after scoring a victory in their demand for wage increases.

The two-day strike virtually paralyzed school operations in this city of 27,000. Fewer than 200 of the city's 1,000 teachers and only 1,000 of the 30,000 enrolled pupils attended classes during the walkout. The A.F.L. Teachers Alliance accepted an agreement giving them a single salary schedule, replacing three schedules now in effect based on grades taught.

The accepted proposal gives all teachers an immediate raise of $300 a year, and establishes effective Sept. 1 salary brackets of $2,400 to $4,800 based on length of service, with automatic raises of $150 a year.

The strikers established picket lines around various schools during the short dispute.

Canned mushroom soup mixed with canned chicken noodle soup makes a good first course.

Pay Promise Has Averted Threat of Transit Walkout

However, Another Parley Is Scheduled With 5 Private Firms and C.I.O.

New York, May 6 (AP)—Promise of a pay increase has averted a strike against the city's biggest transit company, and city officials sought today to effect an agreement between a C.I.O. union and five other private transit firms threatened with a walkout at 3 a. m. (E.S.T.) tomorrow.

A strike threat against the Third Avenue Transit Corporation was lifted last night when it agreed to give its 3,800 employees a cross-the-board increase of 24 cents an hour, retroactive to May 1, if and when it is allowed an expected fare rise.

The firm's bus and trolley lines in Manhattan, the Bronx, lower Westchester county and part of Queens carry 1,800,000 passengers daily.

The Transport Workers Union (C.I.O.) still has a Friday strike call out against the five other companies. The date was set by union leaders Tuesday night in a move to win immediate payment of the 24-cent rise for the 7,300 workers on the six lines.

The companies still threatened are the Fifth Avenue Coach Company and its affiliate, the New York City Omnibus Corporation, which carry a daily average of 1,400,000 persons on bus routes in Manhattan and Queens, and three smaller companies which carry 250,000 passengers a day in Manhattan—the East Side and Comprehensive Omnibus Corporation and the Avenue B and East Broadway Transit Corporation.

Confidence Expressed
Union officials expressed confidence the three smaller lines would go along on the settlement approved by the Transit union management, but they feared greater difficulty with the Fifth Avenue Coach Company and New York City Omnibus Corporation.

The union demands that these two large companies adhere to the pattern set by the Third Avenue Transit. The two companies have refused to go beyond an 18-cent increase, on the ground their wage scale has been six cents or more an hour higher than the average $1.20 an hour paid on the Third Avenue Transit and the other private and city-owned lines.

The two companies also have refused to make a pay increase effective until a higher fare is approved and in operation.

The 24-cent rise granted by Third Avenue is the same as that granted to the 40,000-odd workers on city-owned transit lines which becomes effective July 1, the date that city fares go up.

Speedy city approval for fare rises on the private lines to finance pay increases has been indicated, and the applications then would go to the State Public Service Commission.

Theodore W. Kheel, director of the City Labor Relations Division, who helped negotiate the Third Avenue settlement, scheduled a conference with Mayor William O'Dwyer today to discuss the deadlock between the union and the Fifth Avenue and New York Omnibus firms. Direct intervention by the mayor was believed probable.

Agrees to Negotiate
The Avenue agreed to negotiate further on a union demand that the 24-cent increase be made retroactive to October 1, the date the old working contract expired.

Michael J. Quill, international President of the Transport Workers Union who split recently with leaders of the union's leftwing, received a telegram from C.I.O. President Philip Murray yesterday hailing the transit pay rise as "a most outstanding achievement."

Murray told Quill that the way in which he handled negotiations here is "worthy of the commendation of the entire labor movement, and particularly the C.I.O."

Murray sent a telegram to Mayor O'Dwyer congratulating him on his "industrial statesmanship." Quill supported the mayor in the latter's leadership in increasing fares on city lines to finance the wage boost.

NEW!

Mrs. Filbert's MARGARINE

NOW "IN THE BAG"

A "million times" easier to color... more delicious flavor, too!

Amazing new "press-to-change" coloring method saves time...saves effort...saves waste!

- At last—here's all the quick coloring—all the wonderful flavor you've waited for in margarine! Just press-to-change... and Mrs. Filbert's Margarine turns an even yellow in 2 minutes! It's in the bag! And so is the best flavor you ever tasted!
- Actually tastes home-made. Yes, Mrs. Filbert's Margarine is blended from Mrs. Filbert's own recipe—now improved... better than ever! Like a pat of sunshine on bread. Enriches cooking, baking, and frying, too. Every pound is fortified with 15,000 units of Vitamin A.
- Country-fresh. Mrs. Filbert's Margarine is made fresh daily. And Mrs. Filbert's airtight "wonderbag" keeps in freshness... keeps off dust, odors, moisture. Ask your grocer for Mrs. Filbert's Margarine today.

"Biggest thrill of my career..." "I haven't been so excited since I made my first margarine 30 years ago! Why, with my new "press-to-change" capsule, the margarine practically colors itself! You housewives are going to save so much time—so much effort. And it's so easy to color you can let your children make a game of it!"

TAKES ONLY 2 MINUTES TO COLOR IT!

SNAP—Before putting in refrigerator let bag stand 3 to 4 hrs. Break capsule to start color.

SQUEEZE—Knead bag for 2 minutes, until whole pound is evenly colored. No greasy hands.

CHILL—Replace bag in package to shape. Put in refrigerator. No bowl needed, no dishes to wash.

SLICE—When firm (still in bag) slice off portion for table or cooking use. Then peel off plastic film.

Speaks Against K.P.

Indianapolis, May 6 (AP)—The American Legion had the word of its national security commission chairman today that armed forces should release all fit men from housekeeping duties and put them into combat training. "Civilians can do the army's KP chores and all other non-combatant work," Perry Brown, of Beaumont, Tex., told the Legion's executive committee. "We're going to need light-housekeeping duties and put them we have to get them just as not producing them. The manpower pool is disastrously low."

New Rat Catchers

Penang, Malaya (AP)—Cats are being replaced as rat-catchers here by pythons. A rice mill owner's association announced tests had shown the giant snakes, up to 25 feet in length, kill two or three times as many rats as cats. So they are installing a tame python in each rice mill.

Playtex Air-Nurse Boon to Mothers Who Tend Babies

Mothers (and Papas too) who tend a baby in these days of overcrowded households have wonderful new help in the Playtex Air-Nurse, an International Latex invention devised to lighten baby-tending burdens.

The Air-Nurse, a combination safety chair, bassinet, baby bath, crib and auto seat does everything but change baby's diapers, and even makes that chore much easier.

For folks who want to travel and take baby with them, the Air-Nurse is a blessing. Safety anchors on its four corners make it possible to fasten the Air-Nurse to a chair or seat on a plane, bus, train or in the car.

Weighing less than a pound, the Air-Nurse is an air-cushioned device that was researched and developed for the baby living in a modern world. A wide band on its petal-finish, sanitized cotton cover holds the infant securely while, at the same time, allowing complete freedom of motion.

With removal of this cover, the Air-Nurse becomes a sanitary bath for baby. When the water has been poured out, the Air-Nurse is instantly made dry merely by patting with a towel.

Slipped into its cover, the Air-Nurse can be used in many ways. When guests arrive and you want to show off baby, the Air-Nurse can serve as a bassinet.

The Air-Nurse is ideal when changing the baby's diapers. Mother can leave the infant to get baby's powder or oil, etc., without fear that the baby will fall from a table.

At your host's home or in a hotel room, where the Air-Nurse can be placed on top of a bureau, baby can sleep in it, can be bathed in it—in fact, the Air-Nurse can lend him just as though he and mother were home.

Since it fits into any standard sized carriage, the Air-Nurse can also be used as a comfortable, air-cushioned carriage mattress. At picnics or on the beach, the Air-Nurse becomes a "tummy" holding the baby snugly in a "safety island" and affording protection from sand, pebbly ground and dampness.

The Air-Nurse can be used from baby's birth until creeping age. In the test-period that it has been on the market, the Air-Nurse has proved itself to be a wonderful all-around, all-purpose aid to mothers. It has also become the ideal gift for doting friends and relatives who've just learned of a new addition in the family.

This new invention is water-proof and air-tight, inflates easily and quickly in one minute. In two baby-colors, blue and pink, for infant boys and girls.

When not in use, the Air-Nurse can be deflated and folded to handling size, and can be carried in a purse, diaper bag or in the beautiful silvery tube in which it is gift-packaged.

Aerialist Is Injured

New York, May 6 (AP)—A circus girl aerialist suffered back injuries in a 25-foot drop from a whirling ladder as a matinee crowd looked on at Madison Square Garden yesterday. The girl was Jeannie Rockwell, 22, of Bellmore, N. Y. She slipped from a revolving ladder and plunged to the area floor during the Monte Carlo ballet number of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus. Some 14,000 spectators saw her fall. Hospital attendants said later that the ballerina suffered shock, dislocated vertebrae and sprained back muscles.

From 1634 to 1637, speculation in Holland on tulip bulbs reached such proportions that near panic followed collapse of the boom.

ADVERTISEMENTFALSE TEETH*That Loosen*Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-aed) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Cheek "pink color" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

The beginner at contract sometimes becomes confused by theories. He learns about the "hold-up" play, and thinks that he must employ it every time he plays a no trump contract.

In today's hand it is necessary to give up any thought of a holdup play. Declarer must win the first trick in his own hand with the ace of hearts in order to retain the king of hearts as an entry to dummy.

The next problem is, should declarer try to win all six diamond tricks, that is, on the king of diamonds, and then lead over to dummy's king of hearts?

He should not. His first obligation to his partner is to make the contract, and he must protect against one of the opponents holding four diamonds to the jack. He should lead the king of diamonds, overtake in dummy with the ace, cash the queen of diamonds and then lead the top, forcing the jack out. In case of a four-two split, he has saved the contract, as he is assured of five diamonds, two hearts and the two black aces.

He may make an extra trick by getting West employed but that is secondary. The main thing is, in order to assure making the contract, declarer must give up the holdup play and must surrender the chance of making all six diamond tricks.

R.P.I. Students Adopt Charter for Student Union

Troy, May 6.—With an affirmative vote of 2,103, a clear majority of nearly 4,000 attendees, the students of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute have approved a new constitution for their Student Union. Only 151 votes were cast in opposition.

The constitution sets up representative legislative and administrative groups for "furthering the educational and social interests of the student body, to coordinate all student organizations, to promote all lines of student activities, and to act as a medium through which student opinion may be expressed."

Raymond Jordan, lacrosse star, is the first presiding officer of the new Student Council, by virtue of his election as grand marshal. This legislative group will be composed of the president of the Student Union, the 16 class officers, and 16 members at large. Non-voting members are a representative of the dean of students and a master-at-arms appointed by the grand marshal.

James Elmore, of South Fallsburg, newly chosen president of the Student Union is chairman of the Executive Committee, the administrative group. It includes the grand marshal, the managers of varsity sports, the editors-in-chief of approved publications, the president of the Musical Club, three representatives from the council of club presidents, the director of athletics, the manager of the Student Union, and the faculty advisor of the Union.

Its decisions may be overridden by a three-fourths vote of the Student Council.

Esther Williams Gives Opinion of Swim Suits

Hollywood, May 6 (AP)—The new scanty bathing suits are too scanty for Esther Williams.

Esther, a gal with more curves than the Boston Post Road, should know whereof she speaks. The movie actress, who was national swimming champion, says the scanty-wanlys are "unflattering, immodest, impractical."

Why they come off in the water, she confides. "If you can't swim in them, what good are they? They don't do anything for the female figure. If the object is to get more skin exposed to the sun, I say sunbathing should be done in the back yard, not at the beach or pool where men have nothing to do but look."

Esther said she thinks women should have their swim suits tailored to their figure as they do a dress.

All the while she was saying this, she was wearing a swim suit that looked like it had been sewn on her.

Generous Americans
In recent years Americans gave churches and welfare institutions little more than $1.50 out of every $100 of their expenditures—considerably less than they spent for either tobacco or alcoholic beverages.

Snyder Says U. S. Will Go After Miss Kellems Soon

Washington, May 6 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder says his men will see that Miss Vivien Kellems pays up.

"We are taking appropriate action—proper steps to protect the revenues of the government," Snyder told a news conference yesterday.

Miss Kellems, a Westport, Conn., manufacturer who long has opposed administration tax policies, wrote Snyder last week that she had stopped taking the tax money from her 100 employees' pay envelopes. She added:

"I respectfully request that you please indict me."

Snyder did not say what the "appropriate action" might be, but in the past the Internal Revenue Bureau has seized and sold property of concerns delinquent in turning in taxes.

Bureau officials pointed out further that the tax law carries a penalty of up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for criminal violation of the Revenue Act.

Miss Kellems said her refusal to collect the levy was based on her belief that the "law is not only unjust and tyrannical in concept but is in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States." She stopped the tax collections on Friday, February 13.

Court Suit Brings Ruling for Civil Service

Albany, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—A court suit originally involving $100 brought an Appellate Division ruling yesterday that may add about $2,000,000 to the pay of more than 4,000 state civil service workers.

The Appellate Division unanimously affirmed Supreme Court Justice Francis Bergan's decision that Daniel De Marco of Albany was entitled to more pay for his job in a State Health Department laboratory.

De Marco claimed that under a 1947 program to eliminate salary inequalities, he should have gone into his new grade as a five-year employee, and received a $100 raise. The Civil Service Commission, he said, refused to credit him in the new grade for his five years of service.

He contended that 5,000 state employees had gone into new grades under the DeMarco administration program, but that few had benefited immediately because of the Civil Service Commission's interpretation of the law.

Justice Bergan ruled in De Marco's favor last November, and Attorney General N. L. Goldstein appealed.

De Marco's attorney, John T. DeGraft, argued before Bergan that the commission's interpretation "ignores the recommendations of the governor."

DeMarco had said the reallocations probably would cost $3,000,000. DeGraft estimated that application of Bergan's ruling would add "around $2,000,000" to the civil service payroll.

Not Aimed at Newsmen

Washington, May 6 (AP)—The threat of jail for newsmen who publish confidential information leaked to them by lawmakers faded today. "It wasn't aimed at newsmen in the first place and I'll move to strike it out myself," Representative Hoffman (R-Mich.) said of the controversial provision in a pending bill he is sponsoring.

The bill, designed to force executive agencies to give congressional committees requested data, would penalize any committee member, employee or "other individual" disclosing data held to be confidential. Hoffman's announcement that he would agree to removal of the "other individual" clause cleared the way for a House vote on the legislation next week. Previously Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) and Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana had told newsmen they would fight any proposal that threatened to invade the constitutional rights of the press.

ACCORD

Accord, May 6—Rochester Reformed Church, the Rev. John Hart, pastor—Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; worship service, 11 a. m. Truck Case Brought Canandaigua, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—The court will decide whether this city can bar trucks of more than 10 tons from using Main street, which is part of two state highways routes. State Supreme Court Justice H. Douglass Van Duzer yesterday ordered the city to show cause why it should not be restrained from enforcing the ban adopted April 16. The order, returnable May 11, was obtained by the Niagara Motor Express, Inc., of Syracuse and Tibbs Transportation Lines, Inc., of Buffalo.

Binnewater Night Is Enjoyed at Elks

More than 250 members and friends of Kingston Lodge, 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, attended a dinner at the club on Fair street, Wednesday night, in observance of Binnewater Night.

The affair was the first major activity since Exalted Ruler William Krom assumed leadership of the organization for the ensuing year. Next in line are Jewish Night, Irish Night and Italian Night. These events are arranged to promote good fellowship and understanding among the membership.

Last night's program arranged by Joe Kelly, local building construction supervisor and his sons who are prominent members of Kingston Lodge, was thoroughly enjoyed by those who attended. Fred Van Deusen, Kingston magician extraordinary, favored the assemblage with sleight of hand and Roger Baer kept them entertained with selection on the Solovox. Bobby Smith, favorite vocalist of the organization, was called back for many encores. Fred Stang, local attorney, was master of ceremonies.

Exalted Ruler Krom in his speech of welcome voiced his appreciation of the excellent work done by the committee on arrangements, and for the cooperation displayed by the membership of the lodge since his installation as their leader.

Electrical Group Hears Experts on New Developments

More than 250 Hudson valley men identified with the electrical industry, attending a dinner meeting Monday in the Governor Clinton Hotel, heard experts talk on various new developments of importance to the electrical contractor and his customers.

Represented at the affair were contractors, jobbers, underwriters' representatives and employees of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation who were the guests of four area organizations: The Catskill Mountain Electrical League, Ulster County Electrical League, Dutchess County Contractors Association and the Electric League of Newburgh.

Those Who Spoke

Speakers introduced by Donald F. Bishop of West Shokan, and the subjects they discussed were: Harris E. Dexter, vice president in charge of commercial relations at Central Hudson—"Six Billion Dollar Expansion Program of National Utilities"; L. H. Buffman, General Electric Company, Schenectady—"Dealing Cables"; George Nash, Central Hudson utilization engineer—"Recommended Residential Wiring Installation";

Will M. Kline, Jr., assistant sales promotion manager, Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Mansfield, O.—"Looking Ahead in Wiring"; J. L. Wagoner, Westinghouse Electric Company, Pittsburgh—"Present Day Equipment for Future Use"; Seated at the speakers' table were William J. Slater, Poughkeepsie; E. C. Dalrymple, electrical inspector; Roswell Coles, Kingston; Howard Hoffman, Ravena; N. J. Flemming, Newburgh and Peter O'Shea, Poughkeepsie.

New Developments

Dexter explained that since the tremendous expansion of utilities will result in customers, more appliances in need of service, more problems for the electrical contractor, it is necessary that electrical men meet and solve these problems together. He further stated that the full use of electricity by the customer is entirely dependent upon the wiring installed in his home. If the wiring is not adequate, the customer will not be able to make full use of the many new electrical developments which will come in the future.

Buffman stated that as a result of severe winters, such as the one just experienced, many homeowners have suffered considerable loss due to ice conditions on roofs, gutters, leaders, pipes, etc. To overcome this problem, the General Electric Company has developed, and is manufacturing, a heating cable capable of melting frozen areas on the exterior of homes.

Increasing Capacity

Nash, centering his talk on the use of R.H. insulation, two-pole circuit breakers and the three classes of metering installations stated that in order to increase capacity with the same size wires, this insulation should be used in place of the commonly used Type R. Mr. Nash asserted that individual two-pole circuit breakers should be installed in place of conventional load centers. Circuit breakers, he stated, secure and increase flexibility and capacity in the home.

Kline said that the electrical contractor is not being fair to either the customer or himself if adequate wiring is not installed for the service customers receive from electrical equipment depends entirely upon it. He asserted that all wiring should be installed with an eye to future appliance production.

Wagoner told of the various types of apparatus and wiring equipment available on the market today, emphasizing the use of insulation and circuit breakers. He demonstrated the safety features of the circuit breaker, stating that equipment is engineered to give convenience, adequate voltage for various appliances, speed and efficiency.

EAT WELL for Less

Simple Dish Rings the Bell

BY GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Staff Writer

Keep it simple but make it wonderful. That's the rule when you plan a special dinner for Mother on Mother's Day.

This recipe makes preparation and serving easy and attractive.

Roast Beef With Vegetables
(Serves 6-8)

Two tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons salt, few grains pepper, 3 pounds roast beef, 2 bunches carrots, 12 to 16 corn cobs, cooked, 6 to 8 potatoes, cooked, 6 to 8 small onions, cooked, watercress, Mix together flour, salt and pepper and rub over meat; place meat, fat side up, in a well greased two-quart heat resistant glass utility dish. Roast in slow oven (300 degrees F.) about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. If using a roast meat thermometer, meat will be rare at 140 degrees F.; medium done at 160 degrees F.; and well done at 170 degrees F. Or allow 28 to 30 minutes a pound for rare-done stage, 32 to 35 minutes a pound for medium and about 40 minutes a pound for a well-done roast. Arrange cooked carrots, cooked potatoes and cooked onions around meat and return to oven for 15 minutes. Garnish with watercress. And for dessert, try this color combination — delicate pink and brown. Mother will be excited.

Chocolate Peppermint Purfait
(Serves 6)

One recipe chocolate pudding, 1 drop peppermint extract, 1 drop red coloring, 1 cup cream, whipped. Prepare chocolate pudding as directed on package. Cool. Add peppermint and coloring to whipped cream to make cream a delicate pink. Serve pudding in parfait glasses in alternate layers with whipped cream, having whipped cream on top.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Rhubarb sauce, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, honey or syrup, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Melted cheese and condensed tomato sauce on split and toasted muffins, fresh fruit cup, cookies, tea, milk.
DINNER: Roast beef with vegetables, enriched hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, mixed green salad, chocolate peppermint parfait, coffee, milk.

Some of the craters on the moon are 140 miles across.

Polar Bear Cubs Greet Civilization

With a look of natural bewilderment, these two Alaskan polar bear cubs take their first peek at "civilization." The gift of Willibald Hoffman to the Milwaukee, Wis., Washington Park zoo, they've just arrived from the Arctic. Hoffman is shown welcoming the pair.

Scouts Attend Ceremony

Scouts from the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts of America, were present at a presentation ceremony in the executive chamber, Albany, when Cub and Boy Scouts reported to Governor Thomas E. Dewey on the progress of the program "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," recently.

Tenderfoot Scout Leroy Morse, Troop 77, Clintondale and Cub Scout Ralph Apa, Pack 40, Athens, with Field Scout Executive Charles Boardman presented the Ulster-Greene report.

These boys are a part of the group of new "Liberty" Scouts and Cubs numbering more than 23,000 who have joined the organization in New York and New Jersey since January 1, 1948. Their units will be known as "Liberty" units.

Governor Dewey, in receiving the report from one of the new Scouts stated, "I feel quite sure that the citizens and institutions of our state will respond fully to your efforts to make the Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Senior Scout programs available to an increasing number of youth." The Governor, a former Scout himself, declared that he would look forward to receiving a full report at the end of the year.

In addition to the units in Clintondale and Athens, Ulster-Greene reported the registration of two other units, Troop 54, of Hunter, and Troop 123, Spring Glen.

Major Thomas J. Hanlon, council chairman of Organization and Extension said today that Ulster-Greene is now, at the highest membership point in its history and that there are now in organization more new units than ever before. Each member of the organization and extension committee of the council is pledged to organize two new units this year, following the lead of the executive staff who have personally accounted for one new unit between January 1 and May 1.

Firemen Are Called

Smoke which filled the kitchen in the home of Robert F. Phinney at 19 Delta place when a roast of meat ignited in the gas range caused a call to be placed for firemen at 12:15 p. m. today, the fire department reported. The fire was out on the arrival of Engine 3 from Wiltwyck station.

Final Report Is Due Tonight in Y.M. Fund Drive

The fourth and final report of the 1948 Y.M.C.A. financial drive will be read tonight at a banquet at 6:30 o'clock and a full attendance of all workers was requested this morning by Burt Tandy, secretary of the "Y".

To date, solicitors have accounted for $15,088.14 of the goal which has been set for $19,800, and indications are that the goal will be reached. Campaign workers have been asked to continue with soliciting until banquet time.

Dwight McEntee, Sr., chairman of the drive, will preside at tonight's closing banquet. The Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

The awarding of additional prizes also will be made during the banquet festivities. It was announced today that the Dormitory workers are leading as a team to date.

Sharkey the Seal Was In Kerhonkson Show

A program that thrilled members of the Kerhonkson Parent-Teacher Association and children of the schools, Wednesday night, featured Sharkey, Mark Huling's seal of moving picture and musical comedy fame.

The pupils were especially delighted with the program arranged by Arthur Chipp, chairman in charge of the event, which was sponsored by the Kerhonkson Lions Club. Dr. Solomon Shapiro, president of the club, gave the speech of welcome.

Won't Pay for Liquor

Albany, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—New York will set up an occasional beer for its employees working overtime, but refuses to pay for "hard liquor." In connection with supper allowances of $1.50 to employees working overtime Harry G. Fox, head account clerk of the State Civil Service Department has announced, "We have been informed by the Department of Audit and Control that meal checks will not be approved by them if any part of the $1.50 has been expended for hard liquor. It is permissible to charge beer when it is taken in preference to coffee, tea, etc."

Giles Rail Losses

New York, May 6 (AP)—A New York Central Railroad statistician today produced figures on passenger traffic losses in an effort to bolster the case of east coast rail lines for higher fares. The roads are asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to hike coach fares 20 per cent and first class fares 14.3 per cent, effective June 1.

WISE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE IN THE FREEMAN

Loan Wars U.S. Overconfidence in Output Ability Bad

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Alfred Sloan, president of General Motors, today said that overconfidence in the country's ability to produce more goods than it can consume is a dangerous illusion.

Sloan's address featured the opening sessions of the Transportation Congress. The meeting was sponsored by the National Highway Users Conference, which he has headed since its organization in 1932. He will be succeeded Friday as conference chairman by Albert Bradley, G.M. executive vice president.

Sloan urged the Highway Congress delegates to use "statesmanship" in outlining a comprehensive national road program at minimum cost.

"The demands on our highways," he said, "are directly related to the state of the nation in terms of economic activity and development. Therefore our demands on the system as a whole should be based upon the most careful appraisal of our vital needs."

Hollywood Police Raid House and Arrest 4 Persons

Hollywood, May 6 (AP)—A little black box, which police said today bulged with Hollywood names, was seized in a raid on a reputed vice house in the heart of the film capital.

Officers reported they battered down the solid oak door of the luxurious house yesterday and arrested three women and a man. They gave their names as Marie Mitchell, alias Brenda Allen, 30; Benjamin Berk, 42, who said he was a film producer; Carol Jones, 22; and Josephine Jarrett, 24.

Miss Mitchell was booked on a charge of keeping a house of ill repute. The man and Miss Jones were charged with resorting; Miss Jarrett, with visiting a house of ill repute. All were released on bail of $500 each.

Police Sgt. Charles Stoker said names of prominent movie personages were card-indexed. Officers reported they found the icebox filled with champagne.

Will Make Survey In Kingston About U.N. School Course

Kingston has been chosen as one of nine communities in New York state for an international survey to determine what is being taught in the schools concerning the United Nations. Kingston College Women's Club with the school officials is gathering the information in accordance with a resolution adopted by the United Nations Assembly in November. A summary of local findings is being prepared for publication.

The United Nations resolution asked member nations to take measures as soon as possible to encourage education on the United Nations, its recommended principles, purposes and principles, structure, background and activities of the U.N. be taught in the schools.

The International Relations Committee of the American Association of University Women, of which the Kingston club is a branch, has undertaken the national survey to ascertain the present situation and future needs.

Schools from communities of varying population in each state throughout the nation have been selected.

A group of A.A.U.W. members in Kingston who were contacted with the schools have been engaged in making the local survey with the cooperation of Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of schools. Mrs. George Dineen and Dr. Mildred Dawson have collected information in the grade schools. Miss Irene Kinkade and Mrs. Ida K. Sheehan, in the high school. Myron J. Michael, High School, Miss Ethel Hull, chairman of the International Relations group of the local A.A.U.W., and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, president, have worked on the committee.

A questionnaire dealing with methods, procedure and materials has been filled out and sent to national headquarters.

For the occasion, presented Miss Kathryn M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis and Health Association, who gave a report of the agency's work for the past year.

In presenting the other persons on the staff, Dr. Holcomb introduced Harry S. Easign, president of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association; Robert W. Osborn, executive secretary of the state committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health; Dr. George James, commissioner of Health of Ulster County; Dr. George W. Weber, superintendent of the county tuberculosis hospital; the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, president of the county board of health; Dr. John Kingsbury, retired executive secretary of the state committee on tuberculosis and public health and member of Association Board of Directors; Miss Louise G. Campbell, special field consultant of the state committee; Dr. J. S. Taylor, director of Kingston Laboratory; Dr. Henry L. Bibby, Miss Emily Rice, Miss Margaret Quick, Dr. M. Elizabeth Moore, members of Association Board of Directors.

In closing Dr. Holcomb expressed the appreciation of the association for the excellent cooperation received throughout the year from the local newspapers and radio stations. Special tribute was made to Announcer Bob Browning for his genuine interest and support of better health in Ulster county.

More than 85 per cent of all American churches have Sunday schools with an estimated enrollment of nearly 23 million.

City Workers Thank Council for Support

A resolution was passed by members of the Civil Service Employees' Association, Ulster Chapter, at their last regular meeting expressing their appreciation for support of members of the Common Council in retaining the Municipal Civil Service Commission instead of transferring its duties to Ulster county.

The resolution was made known in an open letter to members of the Common Council from A. Foster Winfield, president of the Ulster chapter. The letter stated:

"This association wishes to express its appreciation and gratitude to those elected officers who supported the city employees in their stand to have the Civil Service Commission retained in the city of Kingston rather than be transferred to the county of Ulster. We feel that our best interests and rights have been protected by the rescinding of this resolution."

Modena Youth Injured When Struck by Auto

Roy Hansen, 16, of Modena, was injured when struck by an auto while walking along Route 32 at about 7:30 last night a half mile south of Modena, the state police reported.

The youth was struck by a sedan operated by Thomas Reddy, 23, of Modena, the report said.

Hansen, who suffered a fracture of the right leg and shock, was taken by ambulance to the Kingston Hospital.

State Trooper Robert Conklin of the Highland station investigated.

City Workers Thank Council for Support

A resolution was passed by members of the Civil Service Employees' Association, Ulster Chapter, at their last regular meeting expressing their appreciation for support of members of the Common Council in retaining the Municipal Civil Service Commission instead of transferring its duties to Ulster county.

The resolution was made known in an open letter to members of the Common Council from A. Foster Winfield, president of the Ulster chapter. The letter stated:

"This association wishes to express its appreciation and gratitude to those elected officers who supported the city employees in their stand to have the Civil Service Commission retained in the city of Kingston rather than be transferred to the county of Ulster. We feel that our best interests and rights have been protected by the rescinding of this resolution."

Modena Youth Injured When Struck by Auto

Roy Hansen, 16, of Modena, was injured when struck by an auto while walking along Route 32 at about 7:30 last night a half mile south of Modena, the state police reported.

The youth was struck by a sedan operated by Thomas Reddy, 23, of Modena, the report said.

Hansen, who suffered a fracture of the right leg and shock, was taken by ambulance to the Kingston Hospital.

State Trooper Robert Conklin of the Highland station investigated.

Dr. Igou Speaks of Music At Business Girls Club

Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, head of the music department at New Paltz State Teachers College, organist and choirmaster at St. John's Episcopal Church, was the guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's Club, Wednesday night at the Y.W.C.A. He gave a musical travelogue describing some of the places in which he visited and studied in Europe.

In particular Dr. Igou spoke of Salzburg, Austria, where the people have a much greater regard for music and seem to grow up with it, he said. The city of 30,000 population has an opera company and three symphony orchestras which give weekly concerts. At the time he was in the city in 1933, it was possible to buy standing room at the opera for about fourteen cents.

Announcement was made of the food sale to be held Saturday, 1:30 p. m. in Montgomery Ward store.

Next Wednesday the club will hold its Mother and Daughter Banquet at 6:30 p. m. Instead of 6:10 p. m. Reservations must be made by Monday night at the Y. Miss Evelyn Yellow Robe will be the speaker.

Virginia Kahrs Married at Home To Peter Mathis

Miss Virginia E. Kahrs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kahrs, 421 Wilbur avenue, was united in marriage to Peter Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mathis, the Bronx, Sunday, at 2 p. m. by the Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents. Spring flowers were used for decorations.

Mr. Kahrs gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a blue green tulle afternoon dress with grey accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Her sister, Mrs. James Dugan, as matron of honor, wore a green gabardine suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

William Mathis of the Bronx was his brother's best man. A reception was held immediately afterward with members of the immediate families present. Mr. and Mrs. Mathis left for a wedding trip to New York city. She wore a navy suit, black accessories and yellow rose corsage. They will make their home in Philadelphia, Pa.

Free Spring Concert In New Paltz School Tomorrow Night

The Music Association of the New Paltz State Teachers College will sponsor the annual spring concert at the College Auditorium Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock. This, the last concert of the 1947-48 season, will present selections by the various musical organizations of the college.

The evening promises to provide a variety of music, both vocal and instrumental, in which a number of local people will participate. The program will range from numbers by Bach and Handel to more familiar numbers such as, "The Whiffenpoof Song," "Joshua Fit De Battle of Jericho" and others. One of the most interesting contributions will be Brahms' "Song of Destiny," utilizing the combined abilities of the College Community Chorus and the College-Community Orchestra.

Admission is free. The general public is invited to attend.

Card Parties

A card party will be held Thursday, May 13, 8:30 p. m., at the St. Remy Fire Hall under the auspices of the St. Remy Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mr. Marion Cancelled

The card party scheduled for Friday night at Mount Marion under the auspices of the Mount Marion-Ruby Fire Department has been cancelled. The date for the next party will be announced.

Peanut Butter Sauce

Peanut butter sauce is good on cooked cabbage, onions or cauliflower. You won't need much flour to thicken it as it will thicken the liquid and cook. Use 1 tablespoon butter, 2 teaspoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, and 1 cup milk. Melt fat over boiling water, blend in peanut butter. Add flour, seasonings, stir until smooth. Stir in cold milk slowly. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly.

Isabelle Costello Becomes Bride Of Michael Weider

The wedding of Miss Isabelle Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cosmos J. Costello, 8 Wynkoop Place, to Michael Weider, son of Frank Weider, 3 Beach street, took place Sunday at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, The Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Theodore Ricebom was organist. Miss Patricia Kerfe sang Ave Maria. The altar was decorated with white lilies.

Mr. Costello escorted his daughter. Her gown of white marquisette was made in princess style, long pointed sleeves, hertha style collar marked with satin flowers which were also used on the bodice and skirt. Her full length veil was edged in lace and caught to a tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley and sweet peas.

Mrs. Henry Decker, matron of honor for her sister, wore a yellow chiffon gown and carried talisman roses. The Mmes. Mary and Helen Weider, sisters of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids, wore light orchid chiffon gowns and carried yellow roses. All wore halos to match their gowns.

Thomas Yonta was best man for his cousin, Lushers were Ronald Costello, brother of the bride, and Joseph Carruba, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the White Eagle Hall where the bride couple received approximately 600 guests. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Weider left for a wedding trip to New York, Atlantic City and Massachusetts. For traveling she chose a navy blue suit, resa top and accessories to match. They will reside with the bride's parents for the present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Weider attended Kingston High School. He is employed at the Hutton Brick Yard and is a navy veteran.

Tulacz, Windburn Signed by Colonials; Lohrman Also on Roster

Ex-Giant Moundsman Will Act As Player-Coach; Others Named

"Whiskey" Tulacz, Poughkeepsie veteran and Bill Windburn, the City Baseball League's outstanding pitcher for the past two seasons, have been signed by the Kingston Colonials for 1948. Tulacz, 33, was with the club last season and night at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Manager Joe Hoffman also reported that Tom Corrigan, of Tills, a member of the 1947 Dodgers, and Bill Olen, up and coming League receiver, would be in the coaching department for the team.

Bill Lohrman, former major league pitcher and wartime Recreation favorite, will join the Colonials in a player-coach role.

According to the Kingston Colonials, the team will begin practice on May 10 and will play its first game on May 15 at the Municipal Stadium.

The Colonial Baseball Inc., headed by President Addison Jones, virtually completed plans for the seasonal opener on Saturday, May 2, against a topnotch major league team.

Joe Hoffman announced that a 14-man roster would be announced in the next few days. He predicted that at least five Kingston players would receive Colonial uniforms. He said he was not in a position to give names at the present time.

At least three or four established players including perhaps another heavy pitcher will be imported from New York, Hoffman said.

The names of Bobby Newhard and Buddy Van Herpe also figured in the pre-season speculation. Van Herpe is at present with the Poughkeepsie Chiefs of the Colonial Baseball League but there is a possibility he will quit. Newhard, popular Kingston Dodger second baseman in 1947, is a Colonial possibility. The Highland Falls youth is no longer connected with the Dodge chain and at present is attending Albany Business College. It is believed he would be receptive to a Colonial offer.

The Colonial directors reflected their desire to give the Kingston players a thorough trial. "We hope every Kingston boy can make the grade," Manager Hoffman said, "and we're going to give them every chance."

William "Pud" Murphy and Bill Schwab were signed as untried players. Edson of the Recreation Department was placed in charge of the ticket department.

Edie Reilly, Jr., leader sports editor, was appointed official scorekeeper.

Officials and directors of Colonial City Baseball Inc. present at last night's meeting were Addison Jones, Dr. Francis O'Connor, Charles J. Trow, Matthew H. Horne, Nick Kasch, Charles J. Trow, Edie Conklin, Joe Epstein and Clarence S. Rowland.

Oakland, Calif.—Ike William, 114, Trenton, N. J., outpointed Rudy Cruz, 138, Los Angeles, 10 (non-title).

Play of Three Ex-Brownies Pays Dividends for Boston

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox $375,000 debts for Junior Stephens, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder finally begin to look like good business.

Red Sox fans had their misgivings when wins failed to follow the cash outlay. Up to five days ago, neither Kramer nor Kinder had thrown a ball for Boston. Stephens, the boy who was supposed to knock holes in Fenway Park's leftfield wall, was hitting a sorry .200.

Events of the last few days have served to change that picture. Kramer won himself a ball game Saturday and yesterday Stephens hammered an 11th inning homer that gave Kinder a relief decision.

Stephens' hitting surge is the most heartening development in the Boston camp. After smushing a home run opening day off Phil Marchildon of the A's, his power disappeared. Sunday he banged a home run off Joe Page of the Yankees and he had two hits in each of the last three games.

Still far below par at .255, Stephens is beginning to find the Fenway range. Yesterday's clout off Dizzy Trout was his most telling blow for Boston. It accounted for the Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, their fourth straight victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates continue to sizzle in the National, rolling to their sixth straight win by a 3-2 single over Boston. It was their first test against a club that is supposed to be a pennant contender and they came off in line shape. They now lead the second place New York Giants by a full game.

Errors Hurt Giants Cincinnati's Kent Peterson, making his first start of the season after five bullpen jobs, limited New York to five hits in fashioning a 5-2 victory. Leaders by Johnny McCarthy, playing first for the injured Johnny Mize, and Bobby Thomson provided the Giants' scores. McCarthy's two-run boot in the first put Starter Sheldon Jones on the ropes. Grady Hatton hit a home run for the Reds in the third.

The Phillies won a game from Chicago, 13-9, but the services of Pitcher Schoolboy Rowe for at least two months. Rowe suffered a fractured thumb on his left hand when struck by a liner off Peanuts Lowrey's bat. Although Rowe was hit before the accident, the Phils ended to win for Sam Newham, the ex-Busbywick who was picked up as a free agent last week.

Rain washed out the Brooklyn-St. Louis game in the National and the St. Louis-New York and Cleveland-Philadelphia games in the American.

Masteron Trips Chisox Walt Masteron held Chicago to four hits in a night game at Washington, won by the Senators, 6-0, before only 3,846 fans. Al Kozar struck the big blow for Washington, a three-run double with the bases loaded off Glen Moulder in the fourth inning.

Rain Cancels Full Slate In Area Organized Leagues

The two area organized baseball circuits, the Class B Colonial League and the North Atlantic League, were washed out from any competition Wednesday night, the Associated Press reported today.

In the Colonial League Port Chester announced that a single home game with Poughkeepsie scheduled for Saturday night had been changed to a night double-header. Poughkeepsie plays at Stamford tonight. Other games include Port Chester at Waterbury and Bridgeport at New Brunswick.

The Carbondale Pioneers, on the strength of a 15 to 5 win over Lansdale, 1948 edition to the North Atlantic loop, are in first place.

Bagatelles:

One quick second-the-motion for Alderman Jimmy Martin's proposal for a 5-person Recreation Commission to bring Kingston's recreational system up to modern standards. . . . Children's recreation is a science today. . . . Gone are the days when you tossed a baseball and a couple of bats and gloves at a group of kids and said, "Here, go on out and play." . . . Joe Hoffman, Kingston Colonial pilot, has a good right hand man in Bill Lohrman of New Paltz. . . . Between the two they should be able to give Kingston heads-up semi-pro baseball. . . . Nobody can accurately predict what public reaction will be to the semi-pros after the harrowing adventures of the play-for-a-living style of baseball. . . . Colonial City Baseball, Inc., is a group of local men investing their own money and we feel they deserve support. . . . The agreement between Colonial Inc., and city hall is fair to both sides.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The kettle is still boiling over Claude Harmon's rejection of the standard "overlapping grip" in favor of the "interlocking" style. . . . After his sensational victory in the Masters tournament, Harmon took great pains to explain his hold on the club, using the interlocking grip instead of the common overlapping. . . . However, it seems that all the explanation in the world cannot stop the average golfer's belief that the Winged Foot pro has invented something brand new that is a shortcut to winning major championships. . . . The interlocking grip is no recent discovery. . . . Gene Sarazen has been using it for two decades; Henry Picard almost that long. . . . Its greatest asset is a closer knitting of the two hands, eliminating some of the tendency for one to overpower the other, usually the cause of hooking or slicing. . . . Harmon doesn't recommend it as a cure-all to the average golfer by any means. . . . In fact, he believes that it should be adopted only after consultation with a pro and a careful analysis of one's swing.

Of Men and Mice:

Lewis Johnson, a full-blooded Indian is a pitching candidate for Nyack in the North Atlantic League. . . . Buddy Van Herpe doing bench duty for Poughkeepsie Chiefs. . . . Snarest rookie of the season. . . . Preston Ward of the Dodgers. . . . When Leo Durocher asked Ward where he would like to be sent the was with Pueblo in the Class A Western League last season. Ward replied: "I don't know but what I can hit in this league," and didn't bat an eye. He got the job. . . . Baseball scorekeeping invariably creates differences of opinion, especially if the scorekeepers are on opposite sides of the field. . . . Take the Saugerties-Morgan's game Sunday for instance. . . . Saugerties, the home scorer, had the line scores: Saugerties 6-11-11, Kingston 7-8-1. That mystery man, Freer, recorded it Saugerties 6-11-8, Morgan's 7-8-2. . . . The big difference is in the error column, 11 to 8.

Something new in the operation of golf courses will be in effect at the Staatsburg links this season. . . . There will be no professional at the course. . . . Instead, there will be a box in which non-members may put their money and a book in which everyone is asked to write his name and address.

John "Chuckie" Mauro flashing a big victory smile in East Kingston. His keepers cleaned up in the City Minor League and his "army" squad won the championship from Kingston Point and North Rondout. . . . No wonder we didn't hear from Tommy DeCleo.

When Friendship Chills—Art Cosen of Brooklyn rolled 14 consecutive strikes and 608 in the state tournament, doubles. His partner halved and puffed for 438.

Jim Daniels, popular Mixed League bowler, passing around the stories. It's a boy, the first one.

Tillie Taylor still packs a wallop. She won the singles and all-events title in the New York city's women's tournament.

Kingston bowlers flocking to Cecil Rhodes' handicap sweepstakes in Middletown. . . . At least 10 teams will compete. . . . Yet many of these same teams passed up the state tournament where their chances of winning money are five times greater.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: If you are free why not drop around to municipal stadium Friday at 4 p. m., and watch a brilliant young high school pitcher, Clark Mains.

New York (Jamaica Arena)—Nick Mistovich, 147½, Youngstown, outpointed Willie Odum, 148, New York, 8.

Cincinnati—Albie Moore, 176, St. Louis, outpointed Billy Smith, 174½, Cincinnati, 10.

Philadelphia at St. Louis (night)—Leonard (2-1) or Donnelly (1-1) vs. Pollet (0-0).

New York at Pittsburgh—Poat (1-1) vs. Bonham (0-1).

Boston at Cincinnati—Voiselle (2-0) vs. Blackwell (2-2).

Maroons Battle Newburgh Nine at Uptown Stadium

Clark Mains, meal-ticket for Coach Willard Burke's Kingston High School baseball team, is scheduled to go to the mound again Friday afternoon at municipal stadium in hopes of racking up DUSO League victory No. 2 against Newburgh Free Academy.

Mains' showing in the only league fracas date was his brilliant 2 to 0 no-hit triumph over Port Jervis last Friday afternoon at the uptown ball orchard, his second such feat over a span of two years and although experts hardly figure him to hang up another perfect game, he's odds on favorite to flip Kingston to its second straight league conquest.

Kingston's mastery over area ball clubs of high school calibre was ended last Tuesday afternoon when Beacon blanked the Maroons, 2 to 0, hanging the defeat on Joe "Claw" Albany of football fame.

It's expected to be another story however at the stadium Friday when Mains strolls to the hill in quest for his second win in league competition. The burly right-hander has tossed exactly 19 innings to date and has given up only five safeties. He's whiffed 32 batters and has blanked the opposition to date.

Meanwhile, once-beaten Newburgh as far as league play is concerned, will probably send either Dem LaFaro or Bob McGrath to the hill at the stadium against the Burkemen. N.E.A. dropped a 5 to 4 squeaker to Middletown last Friday.

The Middies jumped on LaFaro for a cluster of four runs in the first frame and he gave way to McGrath in the third. The replacement third effective ball for the rest of the way and may get the starting choice tomorrow on that stint alone.

The possible starting lineups: Kingston Newburgh R. Scheffel, 2b Valtenti, 3b Dulin, cf B. Scheffel, 1f Rlenzo, 3b Gnear, 1b Lay, c Carter, rf Tyler, 1b Mains, p McGrath, p

Taft to Invade Jersey In His Delegate Bid

Trenton, N. J., May 6 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will invade New Jersey in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination on May 21 instead of the previously announced date of May 18.

Republican State Chairman Lloyd B. Marsh announced the change in dates after meeting with John Bennett of Taft's staff. The Ohio senator is to have a luncheon meeting with New Jersey's 35 convention delegates, but will first visit the State House to call on Gov. Driscoll and hold a news conference.

Marsh said a decision may be reached today on whether Taft will also have a rally in Princeton such as Harold E. Stassen, the Minnesota presidential aspirant, had last week.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will follow Taft into New Jersey on May 26. He is to meet the delegates at a dinner, but will not have a rally.

Want to Work Again

Paris, May 6 (AP)—Striking Paris subway conductors voted to return to work this afternoon. A strike was called six days ago by the non-Communist Conductors' Union which sought increased pay.

Meat Strike Peace

Fades; Both Sides

Stick to Arguments

Chicago, May 6 (AP)—Hopes faded today for an early settlement of the nationwide meat strike, now in its eighth week.

The government's latest efforts to end the walkout of some 100,000 C.I.O. packinghouse workers broke off with no indications the union and the four major packers were close to an agreement on their wage dispute.

Both sides apparently are standing pat in their controversy over wages. The union continued to reject the nine cents an hour pay raise. The major packers—Cudahy, Swift, Armour and Wilson—refused to boost the amount. The union had asked a hike of 29 cents.

There was no evidence of progress in a series of negotiations held in Washington by Cyrus Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service with the union and packer representatives.

However, the mediation service said it had asked the disputants to be available for further conference in Chicago. There was no indication when the service will call the negotiators together in Chicago.

Earlier J. E. Wilson, Swift's general superintendent, said there are "no prospects of reaching an agreement with the union for settling the strike." He said Swift had started operations in the struck plants and is increasing production "rapidly."

Wilson's statement was described as mere "whistling in the dark" by Ralph Helstein, the striking union's president.

"We can't slaughter cattle with press releases," Helstein said.

The nine cents an hour pay hike had been recommended by a presidential fact-finding board. Before the strike started March 16 the board had been accepted by the A.F.L. Amalgamated Meat Cutters and independent unions for 150,000 other packing house workers.

Asks Bedenkapp Quit

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 6 (AP)—A Republican state committeeman today asked G.O.P. Chairman Glen H. Bedenkapp to resign as Niagara county chairman "in the interests of the Republican party."

The committeeman, James F. Glynn of Niagara Falls, made the request in a letter to Bedenkapp, a copy of which was sent to Governor Dewey.

Herzog Supply Has Employees Insured, Families Covered

Fifty-two Herzog employees have just become covered by a non-contributing life and hospitalization insurance plan, with numerous unique features, signed by Robert H. Herzog, vice-president and treasurer of the Herzog Supply Company, and the Prudential Insurance Company of America. Under the plan, there is absolutely no cost to Herzog employees. Another of the unusual features is that the dependents of employees also are covered, and full benefits apply to retired employees.

The coverage provides to each employee a $1,000 natural death benefit, $1,000 accident benefit, $1,000 dismemberment benefit, and partial dismemberment benefit of $500. It also provides hospitalization benefits to the extent of five dollars a day for 31 days for any one sickness, and a maximum benefit of $25 to cover incidental hospital expenses apart from room and board. If necessary to re-enter the hospital after discharge, or for another illness, the 31-day benefit period begins anew. There is also a maximum surgical benefit of $150.

According to John P. Edwards of Prudential, through whom the plan was negotiated, the voluntary obligation toward employees assumed by Herzog's is remarkable in its broadness, not only because the Herzog Supply Company pays all costs, but because the hospital and surgical benefits apply to dependents of employees including wives, and children, from the age of three months to 18 years. Furthermore there is provision for immediate maternity benefits for female employees, and similar coverage for wives of employees after a waiting period of nine months.

The full life and hospitalization group insurance plan covers the 52 persons employed by Herzog's retail store at 332 Wall street, and Herzog Supply Company at 9 North Front street. Herzog's Appliance Store at 5 North Front street, and four outside salesmen. It covers retired employees and will include any new employee after three months. The life benefits apply in the event death occurs on or off the job.

Dismemberment benefits covers loss of two hands, two feet, or one of each, or eyesight, and partial dismemberment, the loss of one hand, foot, or eye.

Should an employee or dependent be hospitalized, the Herzog Supply Company can issue its own draft to pay for such hospitalization.

In a letter addressed to M. H. Herzog and Robert H. Herzog, the 52 employees have expressed their appreciation for the financial protection assumed for themselves and their families against unforeseen emergencies.

According to M. H. Herzog, the plan was inaugurated to "create a sense of security and lessen fear of the unknown future."

PAY AS YOU RIDE

A small down payment and 8 monthly payments buys auto insurance, if you want credit. You need insurance to avoid trouble and possible loss of your driver's license.

For $5.00 you can buy $1,000 life insurance on furniture in a dwelling in Kingston for 3 years. The policy also covers up to $10 in any place outside the home.

What if someone falls on your sidewalk or is injured on your premises? $5 a year insures a private home against such claims.

Plate glass insurance does not cost much. Ask for an estimate.

Ask how my monthly payment plan helps a small business man to easily pay for his insurance premiums.

Two Hospitalized After 209 Crash

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision on Route 209 near the Parrott farm between Hurley and Kingston shortly after 11 p. m. Wednesday, according to a sheriff's report.

Charles Davis of Stone Ridge, driver of one of the autos, suffered a cut on the back of his head and George Stella, 15, of High Falls, who was riding with him suffered a laceration and bruises of the face. Both were taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Davis, the report said, was headed toward Stone Ridge when his auto was struck by one driven by Isadore Kleinfeld of Brooklyn following a blowout of the right front tire on the Kleinfeld car.

Joyce Vigilante, 106 Pine Tree Lane, Roseton, L. E. who was riding with Kleinfeld, was injured, the report said.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Keator and Delbert Sapp, who investigated, reported that both Davis and Stella were lying in the road when Kleinfeld got out of his car. Both vehicles were damaged considerably.

British Gunboats Here for Scrapping

Two corvettes arrived at the Rondout creek dock of the Storm King Steel Corporation, 180 East Strand, about 6 a. m. today, according to an announcement from the office of that corporation.

The boats, the "Parrott" and the "Chuckmore," are each 300 feet long and of all-steel construction. They were built in 1944 by Canadian Vickers, Ltd., of Montreal, and were used as gunboats by the British navy.

The local steel company purchased the boats for salvage, and will begin work on dismantling them as soon as work on the ferryboats now being salvaged is completed, according to the announcement.

Trainees' Boosts To Come in Summer

Washington, May 6 (AP)—Veteran trainees will have to wait until July or August for their pay increase approved by President Truman.

A Veterans Administration spokesman said it will take that long to work out the complicated adjustments resulting from the higher ceilings Congress authorized.

The new pay scales, retroactive to April 1, cover veterans taking on the job training under the "G.I. Bill of Rights." They apply also to those full-time school and college students who have jobs on the side.

The higher ceilings include the combined monthly wages and government subsistence allowances as follows: Veterans without dependents, $210; veterans with one dependent, $270; veterans with more than one dependent, $290.

Veterans taking full time training will receive the same subsistence allowance as before—$85 for those with no dependents, and $90 for those with one or more.

Those taking combination educational and training courses will get increased allowances as follows: $75 if no dependents; $105 for one dependent, and $120 if more than one dependent.
